About Alina

Alina is a case manager in Weinstock Immigration Lawyers employment-based practice. She assists our immigration attorneys with employment-based temporary visas such as H-1B, E and L visa, as well as PERM and employment-based green cards. She was born and raised in Romania. Alina fluently speaks English, Romanian, Spanish and French. She moved to the U.S. in 2008 after graduating from Law School in Universitatea Crestina Dimitrie Cantemir in Romania. She received her U.S. paralegal certificate in 2010 and after working in the bankruptcy field she decided to pursue her passion to work with international clientele and help other immigrants like her. Prior to joining Weinstock Immigration Lawyers, she worked for 3 years as a paralegal for one of Atlanta's largest law firms, where she gained experience with employment-based non-immigrant visas, PERMs and green card petitions. She joined our firm in order to be able to work more closely with clients and offer a more personalized service.

Alina's personal journey to the U.S. which ended in her becoming an American citizen and firsthand experience with the immigration bureaucracy that separated her from her husband for a year allows her to relate to the clients she assists in a very genuine way. Alina also assists with some family-based petitions, naturalization and other immigration cases.
