

Rajeshri Patel

A Leader in Business Immigration

Rajeshri (“Raju”) Patel manages the business immigration practice group at Weinstock Immigration Lawyers. Raju is responsible for overseeing immigration petitions for our large international employers, handling the visa processes for their employees to work in the U.S. During her long tenure, she has become an expert in representing both national and international companies and helping them resolve the most complex of immigration problems. Among her clients are one of the world’s largest aluminum manufacturers, an established Intellectual Property company, large public universities, as well as technology and IT consulting companies. Other immigration attorneys routinely seek her advice regarding all issues surrounding employment-based immigrant and non-immigrant visas.

Passionately Helping Businesses Grow and Secure their Talent

Raju works with companies of all sizes to keep their valuable employees legally in the U.S. or to bring them from abroad in a timely manner. In addition to her broad employment-based immigration practice, Raju has a strong background in helping individuals with various family-based immigration petitions. She has been extremely successful in overcoming difficult legal obstacles to keep families united. She has also represented numerous victims of domestic abuse, often on a pro-bono basis. Raju’s own family had their share of immigration needs, moving from Africa to the U.K. to Canada and then to the U.S. – she uses her personal experiences to make it a much more pleasant process for all of her clients.
